Living in Paris

Accommodation

Paris School of Business is centrally located in Paris within the Campus Cluster Paris Innovation, and offers various accommodation options in the surrounding area. You can choose from public or private residences, shared furnished apartments, a homestay, or opting to find accommodation on your own.

Short term options

> Airbnb

The world today offers us many ways to travel, including Airbnb, the large community-based accommodation booking platform created in 2008. The average price for an apartment is around 160€/day, and for private rooms, the average price is 67€.

> Hotel

The neighbourhood takes on a village feel from the Gobelins to the small streets of the Butte aux Cailles, with esplanades and towers around China town and Massena. The area around Bibliothèque François Mitterrand is developing at a fast pace, as can be seen by the opening of the Cité de la Mode. Most of the hotels are around Place d'Italie and its shopping center, with a very affordable mid-range offer. The closer we get to the 5th district, the higher the prices, the quality and the design.

> Appart Hotel

The concept is unique as it brings together the best of both worlds between an apartment rental and a hotel. You want to do yoga in your apartment, host your friends, come with your goldfish, everything is possible because you have space in apartments. You want to take advantage of services, reception open 24/24, laundry, restaurant, breakfast. You can stay for one night, a week and more...

“

I am truly grateful that I had the opportunity to study at the Paris School of Business' luxury marketing summer course. It was a wonderful multicultural experience learning about the luxury markets in various countries and industries where my fellow students lived and worked as well as the Parisian luxury markets. I would definitely recommend the luxury marketing summer program to other students looking for an edge in their marketing skill set, while enjoying a beautiful Parisian summer get-a-way. The staff at the Paris School of Business was friendly and went above and beyond to ensure the students all had a great experience.”

“

In my 3rd year at Macquarie University studying a Bachelor of Business Leadership & Commerce, I decided it was time to explore another field of management. Having heard positive recommendations from friends as well as experiencing a short-term exchange program myself, the unit – Luxury Brand Management – offered by PSB looked to be a fantastic opportunity. This unit included a variety of workshops, activities and opportunities to network. It allowed an intensive yet flexible working environment where students were free to go sightseeing prior and after class as well as have ample time to complete their respective assignments. Class work being premised in a collaborative or rather group inclusive scenario provided students to converse with different cultures and backgrounds, which in respect to management and personal development is a value and skill most employees endure.”

“

I am a Counsellor Attorney at Law and I would like to learn more about business and entrepreneurship. I provided the research of summer programs and understood that PSB is the best choice if you are looking for an amazing international environment and interesting study programs in the very heart of Europe. PBS provides a balanced approach to study and leisure activity in order not to overburden the students. At the same time, it provides background knowledges, practical skills and abilities needed in creation of own start-up. I enjoy the lessons a lot because our professors teach us how to discuss things and back up our point of view with arguments. Personally, my studies taught me to always think independently and use the knowledge I have gained in my future professional career. I would tell anyone considering applying that it is a life changing experience that will grow them as a person. The Short Program in PSB is pretty much one of the best thing I ever did!”
